

THE “METAVERSE” DECEIT

The Power of Choice Is In Your Hands

Personal Sovereignty Series - Article #2 - Val Jon Farris, 1.4.2023

“So which pill will you choose? Well, it really doesn’t matter and here’s why . . .”

Because both pills contain the same ingredients. This is both good and bad news, so which do you want first? I suggest we start with the good news to set a positive tone as we take a second sobering trek down the rabbit hole of the Metaverse. (If you missed my first article in this series here’s the link:

<https://travelerswithin.com/metaverse-deceit/>)

Why having the same ingredients is “good” is because unlike the nature of options, in which our liberties are shaped by the predictabilities and limitations of our circumstances, choice is about exercising the freedom to choose possibilities beyond what our circumstances dictate. Essentially, options pertain to liberties and choices pertain to freedom. While it’s challenging to accomplish, with the right attitude, (and a high enough level of consciousness) one can have all their external liberties taken away and still retain their inner freedom. As an example to clarify this point, I’m deeply humbled whenever I come across someone severely handicapped, such as paraplegics who choose to live in gratitude and joy rather than succumbing to their adverse circumstances. Regardless of our life circumstances, we all possess the sovereign power to choose inner freedom and a fulfilling life, but this brings us to the bad news . . .

Because the institutional meta-forces responsible for manipulating the masses have, over the ages, methodically enslaved them into what they should believe, who they should trust, and what will keep them safe, most have abandoned their sovereign power and become dependent upon the very forces that are enslaving them. For once we surrender our faculty of inner freedom and ability to think on our own and make our own choices, taking our liberties away is just a matter of orchestrating the needed meta-infrastructure.

The “bad” news is that the majority of the infrastructure is already in place. The only elements lacking are larger-scale surveillance technologies and more sophisticated AI data analysis for profiling and categorizing every one of us, (“data vectoring” is my next article, look it up as it’s ominous). Some might think we still have a chance to recover or protect our liberties by joining forces and protesting, but make no mistake, resistance is futile. As it stands now, most people are deeply in debt with the banking institutions they would protest against. And what liquid assets we do possess are “safely” in the hands of those who can legally block our access to them. During times of Martial Law, not only can the powers that be institute mandatory lockdowns, (a prison term btw) they can freeze our bank accounts and assets. And if you think Bitcoin investment or hoarding cash and precious metals is the answer, think again . . .

Cryptocurrency and digital assets, which have been touted as how “wise investors” can circumvent the global banking monopoly are in reality a clandestine orchestration of financial misdirection designed to systematically remove our remaining “legal tender” liberties.

Who do you think are the primary investors behind every cryptocurrency provider? While you might think it would be independent investors devoted to “conscious commerce,” you would be wrong. In reality, it’s the very same corporate conglomerates who control all the world’s banks and financial institutions, including the NASDAQ and Stock Exchange. The “Big Three” as they are called, (Blackrock, Vanguard, and State Street) are manipulating this ruse from two different, yet convergent angles; first by underhandedly funding and promoting all the cryptocurrency pioneers, and second, by orchestrating fear-inducing crypto-fraud incidents, (e.g., Sam Bankman-Fried) as a way to pave the way for “trusted banking regulators” to take control and provide the financial security we all need.

The upshot of these two ploys will be the end of cash transactions, so the greenbacks you have stashed in secret places will be worthless before the dawn of the next decade. Because US currency is labeled “Federal Reserve” rather than “Silver Certificate,” the Federal Reserve Bank, (which is a private corporation and subsidiary of the Big Three) has the legal authority to recall it at any time.

As soon as the Metaverse infrastructure is fully operational in all major cities, and the majority of outlying towns and villages, all cash currency will be recalled and replaced with RFID-chipped bank cards. (Blackrock just announced a deal with AT&T to install a new “virtual reality-ready” fiber optics network that connects all major US cities and places all internet traffic and commerce gatekeeping under their control.) Also, TSA announced their testing of facial recognition is in its final stage and will be made mandatory at ALL USA airports by early 2024. And finally, our beloved Bill Gates and Microsoft just announced that they will provide free internet access and technology equipment to the people of Africa by next year as a way to reduce poverty and improve quality of life.

What about buying precious metals and using them as legal tender in the future? Not a chance. As you may have noticed the value of gold and silver is tightly controlled by the Big Three. Whenever there is a surge in precious metal purchases the boon lasts only until the Big Three decide to halt it as a way to curb the attempt on our part to secure our future sovereignty.

So while we can sustain our inner freedom through a variety of personal and spiritual development practices, without the liberties that allow us to act upon them, “freedom’s just another word for nothing left to lose.” Once all the resources and conveniences that support our current lifestyles get monitored, metered, and controlled, (like access to our money and financial info, ability to travel, engaging in commerce, choosing what foods and medications to put into our bodies, we become “free” slaves to those who we unwittingly gave our sovereign power to.

I'm not going to be in fear about any of this, nor am I going to be negative about it. I'm a realist with a propensity for optimism when it comes to matters of humanity and our planet. I have a deep faith that keeps me present, positive, and proactive. There are things we can do to protect ourselves, but the first step is to become fully informed. Come join our growing Facebook Group to learn more. Here is the link:

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/497246835859119>

Coming full circle now, while it really doesn’t matter which pill you choose, Morpheus clarified the outcomes well with Neo when he said, “You take the blue pill and the story ends, you wake up in your bed and believe whatever you want to believe. You take the red pill, you stay in wonderland, and I show you how deep the rabbit hole goes.” ~ Share this article by either forwarding this pdf document or sending this link to my website library of Metaverse Deceit articles: <https://travelerswithin.com/metaverse-deceit/>

Val Jon Farris is an award-winning author and leadership consultant to Fortune 100 companies around the world. For over thirty years he has championed large-scale workforce transformations as well as conducted personal growth programs for over forty thousand people. Val Jon is well-known for his warm anecdotal style and deep insight into personal sovereignty, freedom, and higher consciousness. His second book, Travelers Within: Journeys Into Being Human And Beyond is available at: <https://www.amazon.com/dp/B07XF7WJMV>

He can also be reached at www.travelerswithin.com and by email at valjonfarris@gmail.com